The Disaster Training Institute will offer a variety of instruction geared to enhance the ability of Red Cross Disaster Relief workers to provide service in times of need. This training includes advanced training for disaster leadership as well as basic training for those new to disaster services.

This is also a great opportunity for those that would like to begin serving as a Red Cross Disaster Relief Worker either locally or deploying to crisis areas through out the nation.

Most classes have pre-requisites for enrollment so those interested in beginning service should contact Lee County Red Cross Disaster Services as soon as possible to determine eligibility.

All classes will be taught by Red Cross trained disaster instructors with extensive experience in their areas of expertise. These individuals have donated their time and will be arriving from all over the Southeast. We are extremely proud and privileged to have them take the time to share their knowledge .
